Book by Bishop David Leake

This book is different! It is the fascinating story of someone who did not just visit the Toba and Wichi Indians of Northern Argentina, but who was born, lived and worked amongst them.

David Leake's remarkable story of years in the Chaco is a rich and compelling account told with disarming modesty.

David later became Bishop of Argentina and was honoured by the Queen with a CBE.

Book By Bishop Bill Flagg

From modest beginnings in rural Somerset, Bill Flagg rose to become a presiding bishop in south America. George Carey remarked: "Probably more than anyone else, Bill Flagg has been responsible for the modern development of God's work through the Anglican Church in the southern part of South America."

This is the remarkable story of a remarkable man, who later worked alongside David Sheppard as an Assistant Bishop in Liverpool and then became General Secretary of the South American Mission Society.

"I gladly commend this account, always told with a generous spirit, and with a twinkling eye. We bounce along at a rare pace, as if we are in the saddle with Bishop Bill, crossing the great distances of South America."

The Rt Revd Lord Sheppard of Liverpool.
